Vere Global Weekly Commentary - 29 April 2019

Food For Thought:

As you can see from the chart below, the current bull market has done very well, even better than the last 2 bubbles. So why has this bull market lasted longer and gone up higher than the past bubbles? The answer: a very aggressive Federal Reserve adding stimulus to the economy for 10 years.

The next question might be, "what caused the last 2 bubbles to pop?" The answer: an aggressive Federal Reserve trying to slow the economy. The last question you might ask is, "have they learned their lesson from the last 2 times they raised rates?" The answer: hopefully! The Federal Reserve meeting this week will help us to know if they learned their lesson or not.
